

Adult Learning Communities: In a Ready School, the teaching and administrative staff, volunteers, service providers, students' families and all others who provide care or support for children are a community of learners with the common goal of student achievement. All are continually learning to improve the quality of what they do. Individually and as teams and networks, they share their knowledge, skills and enthusiasm.

Indicators	Activities	Timeline	Who Is Responsible?	Data Collection	Budget & Funding Source
1. Staff members are provided with time, coaching and mentoring to enhance their teaching practices.
2. Student achievement is the focus of professional learning
3. A process is in place to evaluate the effectiveness of professional development.
4. Families are provided with learning opportunities that support student achievement.
5. Families are connected with learning opportunities in the community, if needed.
6. Staff members engage in shared professional development with the early childhood community.
7. Staff members connect with other community-based organizations to promote children's and families' well-being.
8. Staff members design and conduct action research in the service of learning.

Evidence of Growth & Impact (How will you know you are making progress toward your selected indicator(s)?)